

First Telegraph Office

The autumn of 1870, Lehi began communication with the outside world through one of the modern inventions--the telegraph--which was installed in the residence of Bishop Evans.